

Getting Started with Clyde

Unboxing

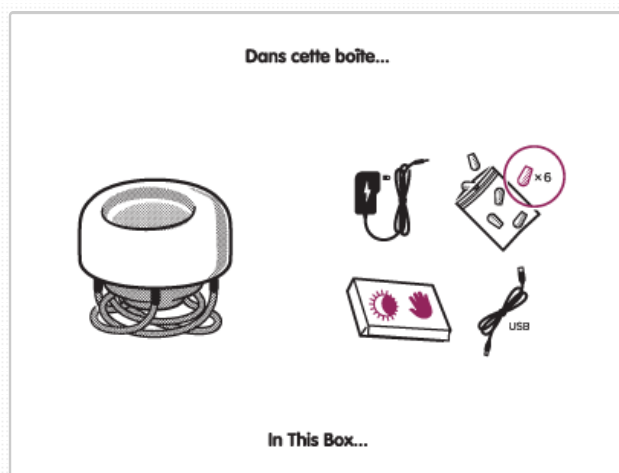

Yeah! Clyde has finally shown up at your door! He's all excited to meet you. You'll see.

So what are you waiting for? Open up the box! Clyde be peeking at you!

Remove the first layer of protective styrofoam to free Clyde. Now, Clyde is waving hello to you! Friendly little fellow, isn't he?

You can now remove Clyde from the box, and let him stretch his legs. He's been stuck in this position for a little while, and will really appreciate being able to straighten his legs.

In This Box...

Box Contents

While Clyde takes in his new surroundings, you can remove the second layer of protection. That will reveal Clyde's entourage:

- an envelope containing Clyde's user manual
- a box containing the personality modules, appropriate module cables and instruction envelopes

- the USB cable that will let your computer talk to Clyde
- Clyde's power supply that should correspond to your region.
- a little bag of six Clyde shoes.

Personality Modules Box Contents

The personality modules box should contain:

- Touchy-Feely board
- six green wires
- one envelope containing the instructions on how to install Touchy-Feely
- Afraid of the Dark board
- one red wire and one black wire
- one envelope containing the instructions on how to install Afraid of the Dark
- a little screwdriver
